The Rowing canal of the Maty stream, officially called the Olympic Centre of Szeged, is one of the best fishing sports institution in Hungary and in the world in regards of its natural attributes. The almost 2.5 kilometers long (for fishing course 1.7 kilometers) and 130 meters wide course is suitable to host even the highest level international competitions. The depth ranges between 2.5 and 3.5 meters for the whole area of the competition course mentioned above. Each year, the WalterLand Masters, the Tubertini-Maros Mix Cup, and many Federal Championships take place here. Thanks to this Szeged is well known by most of the competitors. The average catch is usually more than 10 kg.

The history of the venue

The Maty stream institution is currently situated in 76-hectare area out of which the water surface constitutes 40 hectares.

In 1979 the decision was made to create a multifunctional catchment basin west side of Szeged, near the former river bed of the Tisza. It would serve as a base for water sports, an angler's paradise, a recreation spot and as an inner river basin.

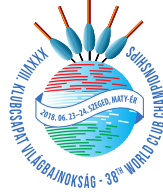

The almost 2.5 kilometers long, 120-300 meters wide and on average 3 meters deep valley was completed in three years.

The Maty stream Water Centre was opened in June 1981 and over the past thirty years it has become perhaps the most popular kayak-canoe course in the world. Due to the favorable wind conditions it is widely considered to be one of the „fairest” courses, without forgetting that the Hungarian spectators are able to create a unique atmosphere during the world competitions. The Hotel at the river bank was expanded with 10 rooms for disabled, the stand, the VIP building and the renovated finish line tower were connected with a terrace system, a new fitness room was built and six new changing rooms were created as well.

The Olympic center is situated 8 kilometers west of the city of Szeged. The course is close to the airport. It is bordered by the road No. 55 (Szeged –Baja) to the north and by the road No. 5 (Szeged-Röszke) to the south. The M5 motorway runs around 2 kilometers to the south from the eastern shore of the lake. Anybody who arrives via the motorway should take the exit at the road No. 55.

Parking: an inside car-park capable to accommodate almost 100 cars is at the disposal of the guests, but more parking areas are also available outside the facility.

Public transportation: the course can be reached by the inter-town bus line to Röszke that leave every hour from the Mars square in Szeged.
